講演者略歴

Bogdan Radu is senior lecturer in the Department of Political Science and the coordinator of the MA program in International Development. He received his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of California, Irvine and an MA in European Politics from the University of Manchester. His research interests revolve around the study of political culture in postcommunist countries, the role of public opinion in international relations, and the ways in which political values are influenced by religious and social factors, among young people and the adult population.
